SBN ANNOUNCEMENTS*SOCIETY FOR BEHAVIORAL NEUROENDOCRINOLOGY
18TH ANNUAL MEETING

The 18th SBN Annual Meeting will be held in Pacific Grove, California from June 10 - 14, 2015, hosted by the University of California, Berkeley.

Abstract Deadline: March 1, 2015

Early Registration Deadline: March 15, 2015

Please visit our website for more information about registration and lodging.

ELECTION OF SBN PRESIDENT-ELECT AND SECRETARY NOMINATIONS NOW OPEN

It is time once again to identify candidates to be placed on the ballot for the upcoming election of a new President-elect and Secretary for SBN. A nominating committee has been organized consisting of Barney Schlinger (Chair) and Anne Murphy and Gabriela Gonzalez-Mariscal (members). To assist the committee in identifying the two best candidates for each position, we request input from the SBN membership.

If you wish to have someone considered by the committee for either position, please prepare a brief description of the individual's qualifications, including information about their contributions to the science of behavioral neuroendocrinology, as well as their service to the SBN or other scientific societies. Send this information to Barney at schlinge@lifesci.ucla.edu by February 16.

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE FOR UNDERGRADUATES*RESEARCH EXPERIENCE FOR UNDERGRADUATES (REU) IN THE INTEGRATIVE BIOLOGY OF SOCIAL BEHAVIORS

Michigan State University is accepting applications for a National Science Foundation-funded summer program. The Integrative Biology of Social Behaviors is a 10-week summer program that will run from May 17 through July 25, 2015. In 2015, we will be accepting at least 9 students. Student participants from other universities will receive free room and board, round-trip travel expenses to Michigan State University for the program and a $5,000 stipend for the summer.

Participating students will receive hands-on research experience studying a wide range of model organisms (mammals, fish, insects and digital organisms) over many levels of organization (molecules, cells, individuals and populations). Students will also benefit from a weekly journal club and from participating in modules on research ethics, statistics, applying to graduate school and careers in the biological sciences. At the end of the program, students will present their summer activities at a university-wide undergraduate research symposium.

Students entering their junior or senior year in Fall 2015 at any U.S. college or university are eligible. Applicants should have a background in animal behavior and/or biology and should be majoring in a relevant discipline. No previous research experience is required. Applications from women and members of underrepresented groups, including people with disabilities, are especially encouraged.

Applications are due by Feb. 13, 2015 and should be emailed to ibsb@msu.edu.

For more information and to download the application form visit the IBSB website or contact the IBSB Program's lead PI, Professor Joe Lonstein, at lonstein@msu.edu.
