PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT AT SBN 2017

The professional development committee would like to draw member attention to some of the programming planned for SBN 2017.

Nancy Wayne is returning this year to host a workshop on Imposter Syndrome. The workshop will help you understand the ramifications of gender differences in confidence levels and its impact on educational and career outcomes.

CALL FOR NOMINATIONS

SBN SCIENTIFIC ADVOCACY AWARD

Nominations for this award can be sent at any time and will be considered individually by the SBN Executive Committee. The award will not necessarily be given every year, but only as warranted. To nominate an individual, please send a copy of the candidate's CV and a letter describing how the individual's career exemplifies scientific advocacy.

FROM FABBS

MID-YEAR UPDATE

It's been an incredibly busy year so far, but I thought it was worth hitting the pause button for a moment to update you. First, I want to give you a glimpse of the federal funding picture, share some of what we're hearing in Capitol Hill meetings, and provide some highlights of our other activities so far this year. I hope you're pleased with our efforts to get the word out about the importance of federal investments in science, especially the behavioral and brain sciences.
