DANIEL S. LEHRMAN LIFETIME ACHIEVEMENT AWARD IN BEHAVIORAL NEUROENDOCRINOLOGY

The Society for Behavioral Neuroendocrinology honors one of its members with the Daniel S. Lehrman Lifetime Achievement Award. The award serves three important purposes: (1) to honor the lifetime achievements of distinguished investigators in our field; (2) to educate junior members of SBN about the life and work of distinguished senior members; and (3) to create an opportunity for publication education and outreach by highlighting the contributions of a distinguished member.

NEW FUNDRAISING INITIATIVE

SBN encourages donations to help fund student travel awards. Now that federal funding for meetings like ours has disappeared it is especially important for members to help out those at early career stages. It is easy to donate at the SBN website (there is a donation button on the home page), and you will find two new features on the donation page.

First, to kick off the new fundraising initiative a special drive has been launched to create a Lynwood Clemens student travel award fund in honor of our Lehrman Award winner who died this year. It appears as an option on the donation page.

Second, the page also includes an option to donate in celebration of someone at any time. "In celebration of" can honor either living SBN members (for example, someone who just retired or had a major birthday) or deceased members. All donors will be acknowledged in the annual meeting Program book in addition to receiving a thank you letter.

TRAVEL AWARD IN CELEBRATION OF LYN CLEMENS

With the passing of Lyn Clemens this year Behavioral Neuroendocrinology lost a pioneer who opened new areas of inquiry, and who trained and mentored an impressive number of outstanding scientists. Clemens started the Eastern Regional Conference on Reproductive Behavior, that later became CRB, the precursor of the Society for Behavioral Endocrinology. In 2009, Clemens received the SBN's Daniel Lerhman lifetime achievement award.
